

Software Developer in Test for Billing Team

What will Ninja do?

- Determine methods and procedures, develop and execute test plans that cover functional, performance, stress, stability and operational requirements for both existing and new software platforms
- Automate test procedures, making appropriate use of tools and test frameworks
- Perform hands-on testing
- Be a part of our development teams within the SCRUM process
- Be in charge for automating the QA testing
- Report and track bugs and perform bug analysis and reproduction

What should Ninja have?

- Degree in Computer Science or another equivalent
- Fluency in English, verbal and written
- 2+ years of experience in software testing, tools and methodologies
- Experience with testing web applications and web services/APIs (e.g. SOAP, XML, JSON, REST)
- Ability to create automated tests using common programming/scripting languages such as Java, Python, Perl or bash
- Strong understanding of object oriented programming (OOP)
- Experience with writing SQL queries (any SQL dialect)
- Experience testing software in a virtualized Linux environment
- Experience with testing data aggregations is advantageous
- Experience with Jenkins is advantageous
- Strong analytical and problem solving skills with attention to detail
- Team player spirit with good time management and communication skills

What's in it for Ninja?

- Good compensation package - Competitive € salary plus attractive benefits
- Working on test automation for highly complex systems (both web UI and back-end platform)
- Collaboration with highly skilled team of engineers on improving our overall CI process
- Development opportunities
- Challenging but also very friendly working environment
- And much, much more...

Join our ninja team!

