

Software Developer in Test for Web Team

What will Ninja do?

- Perform hands-on testing (black box and white box testing)
- Report and track bugs and perform bug analysis and reproduction
- Work as part of our development teams within the SCRUM process
- Identify requirements and evaluate tools and test frameworks used in QA process
- Be responsible for verification of deployment of software releases
- Participate in test automation

What should Ninja have?

- Degree in Computer Science or another equivalent
- Fluency in English, verbal and written
- 3+ years of experience in software testing, tools and methodologies
- Strong analytical and problem solving skills with attention to detail
- Experience with writing SQL queries (any SQL dialect)
- Strong understanding of object oriented programming (OOP)
- Previous experience with Linux environment and common open source software packages
- Experience in testing of web applications
- Team player spirit with excellent interpersonal and communication skills

An Ideal Ninja would be:

- Able to create automated tests using common programming/scripting languages such as Java, Python, PHP or bash
- Experienced with Selenium testing tool
- Experienced with source code versioning systems (Git, SVN, Perforce)
- Experienced in testing web services/APIs (e.g. SOAP, XML, JSON, REST)

What's in it for Ninja?

- Good compensation package - Competitive € salary plus attractive benefits
- Working on test automation for highly complex systems (both web UI and back-end platform)
- Collaboration with highly skilled team of engineers on improving our overall CI process
- Development opportunities
- Challenging but also very friendly working environment
- And much, much more...

Join our ninja team!

